5/7/11 Ethan from One Tree Hill left Parachilna on the 1st. All tanks at least half full Since I left Hawker yesterday seen 3 farmers drive past and that is it.
Aiming to get to Eyre depot tonight have been going solo aiming to get + to Cape service of by end of month

Thursday 14/7/11: Jim & Bob from Adelaide Hill reached here from Buckwonga Gorge. Lovely, easy, gentle walk after 3 tough days Watchmans Glen, Eye Depot, Mt Arden. We started from Cape Terroir in 1991. Had a break of 7 yrs because of hip problems & subsequent hip replacement operation. Or thank to all for erecting these important tanks & rest spots.

Monday 18/7/11: Jerry Hanna, Gumeracha, doing "catch up" walk. Been walking E2E3 for 25 yrs - were close to finishing the whole trail. What a sensational year to be walking the Flinders - if you like greens! Thx to John Sitters for car shuttle.

Thursday 21/7/11 Peninsula Bushies (Mt) Warrack, Pauline

June & Judy walking from Melbourne to Paracutins. Beautiful sunny day but very cold night. Great variety of terrain on walk. views yesterday from Mt Arden spectacular once mist lifted.

- Monday, Sept. 12/2011 (Calabinda Creek → ?)

Slept at Calabinda Creek last night and left around 7:30 this morn. Got here at 1:30 pm. I'm going to push on and camp somewhere further South. I started walking from Paracutins on Sept. 5th and apart from day walkers in Flinders NP I haven't seen a soul along the Heyson Trail in either direction and have had all campsites to myself. Finishing in Quary on Wednesday!! Travis (aka "Mongrel")

- Tues 11/9/2011 MAX, MAL, NES + JAMES. 3RD NIGHT ON THE HEYSEN TRAIL ON THE WAY TO HAWKER.

7/10/11 → Heading N - 3 days to Hawker - all water tanks full to Quorn. No water available at Pitchie Ritchie despite the maps. All tanks locked, unless a train stops for toilet break at Pass.
Traveling from Cape Jervis - only met 1 walker on the way! It's a pity that the trail is almost kept as a secret - a lot of work by volunteers for a few visitors or groups a month.
Nevertheless, a fantastic way to see the variety of our state. Greg Pain - solo walker, Gawler S. Aust.

30.10.11.

Heading N - 2 days. Fine cool weather - good walking Pain Woodburn & Menai Foot.

6th August

Weird walk, no yellow rock wallabies sadly. Beautiful heath and trees. Well signed Bloomsbury gap.

23/8/12 Jen W from Kununurra. Arrived from Celabinda Creek Camp. Walking through to Quorn. Strong SW wind today & drizzle & showers coming in this afternoon. Camping here tonight.
All tanks north of here have had water. Started Parachilna 14/8/12. Fine weather up till now. Enjoying the landscape & wildlife!

10/9/12 Stephen & Brian Sherman - from Buckaringa Gorge to Simmington - then to Harker next day. Several yellow footed Rock Wallabies + more. Great part of the walk & easier than day before from Depot Creek to Buckaringa.

passed thru walking S. to N. North Gardens etc.

2/11/12 Jason, Party of 1 (no 1 will go home!! so it seems to be a never ending party!!) blue pen, shot go will leave this Pen for, by book (wife stole the campfire welcome water stop, but the Billy then there are taking my time, sometimes go off track for a day or two to look about. All shelters & huts going north have water except Middle sight but in flinders national park. despite early extremes will load up on water for walk south. Siltres in the back & a siltre hand held cooler makes it a heavy load (just as well "I have this Pen here, age") after catching the Mt. Plave to Leigh creek from birdc we hiked to Maree & back & linked up with the bigen trail, after walking up to Maree & back & don't want to know the water capacity, take me go off track for a bit about anyway Too much detail of a self-indulgent nature!! suppose so, though this makes up for the for a good site.

2-11-12 continued - oh sorry to bore you all, well, report from hawker so far (thanks to whoever has this section - excellent) from Wilpena Road ~~to~~ (back Rd) to Mayo but the track is poorly marked in places, overgrown sometimes & very infrequent use of markers (keep to the creekbed) sometimes the markers are put to one side of the track. worst parts keep to the creekbed (helps to have a guidebook i suppose) despite boggy conditions & heysen not site for complaints the sign hasn't been fixed so heysen if you want better use of the trail tell the defensive person (person) who looks after this section to do his job better. enough of a gripe excellent trail, thanks to FSTH. Mayo hut is awesome, also Murchison seem worth a climb, St Marys Park the best, & a wander over & about the area worth it. only seen 1 other hiker so far but she's gone (tourist Flinders Park) Now we are looking forward to seeing hikers.

Sun 4th Aug - '13 - This is Day 29 as my 'Hapless to Jervis' attempts. I tried to do C. Brook - Hapless in '06 (see entry) but only got as far as Wilpern. This time it's gonna happen! My brother Anthony accompanied me here the Shezlechi track (with fort. Hapless) to Hader. I am now walking solo. V. lucky in that water is everywhere. The Flinders is as green as I've ever seen it. Thank you to the Mayson people for such places as this. JULIAN BARNETT
